West Central Indiana Economic Development District (WCIEDD), in its role as the Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO) for all of Vigo County and most of Clay County, recently launched an on-line survey to help gather information and suggestions from the community about the transportation system. "The purpose of the on-line survey is to provide citizens an efficient way of sharing their thoughts and ideas about the current transportation system and how it should evolve over the next 20 years," said the MPO's Transportation Planning Director Jeremy Weir.

Input and information gathered from the survey will help the MPO develop the area's next Metropolitan Transportation Plan (MTP). "The MTP outlines the long-range vision for continued development of the transportation network in this area and identifies a prioritized list of projects to be targeted for advancement," stated Weir. The network includes roads, streets and highways; transit (buses); and transportation alternatives such as sidewalks, bicycle and pedestrian pathways.

The survey will be open through May 4, 2018. It is available on WCIEDD's website (<http://www.westcentralin.com>) and at: <http://www.surveymonkey.com/r/PQ5XM3M>. Printed copies of the survey are also available at WCIEDD's office located at 1718 Wabash Ave in Terre Haute, the Brazil Public Library, and at both branches of the Vigo County Public Library.

This long-range transportation planning effort is funded by the U.S. Department of Transportation and is required to maintain local public agency and state eligibility for federal funding to advance transportation improvement projects identified in the MTP. For more information about the MTP or the update process, contact Jeremy Weir at 812-917-3199 or by email at jweir@westcentralin.com.
